

I am writing to you because Swiss Finance Academy is now accepting student applications for its summer 2006 International Wall Street training program, designed to help college undergraduate students, graduate students including MBAs, as well as recent graduates, secure the best possible job opportunities in investment banking, and we would like academically capable students from University of Southern California to apply to our program. Because of our rigorous training, our alumni regularly receive offers from firms like Goldman Sachs, Morgan Stanley, Citigroup, Deutsche Bank, Lehman Brothers and Merrill Lynch, to name a few. Wall Street firms recognize that our participants excel on the job. We also partner with major employers so that we can offer New York interview opportunities to our top performers.

Would you be kind enough to inform your students about this unique investment banking training opportunity by forwarding this email to your students, finance and economics majors and minors, and any relevant finance and business clubs.

Besides providing classroom instruction on topics such as M&A, Private Equity, Venture Capital, and Hedge Funds, our investment bankers and hedge fund executives train our students so that students can interview effectively for some of the most sought after positions in investment banking, can negotiate, and can position themselves strongly for a long term career success. Further, students obtain an "inside scoop" on what it is actually like to work on Wall Street and in the "City" of London, as they receive a perspective on the reality of daily work.

Our faculty is composed of executives, graduates and professors of Salomon Brothers (now, Citigroup), Harvard Business School, Garvin School of International Management, Wharton Business School, JP Morgan, McKinsey, and Bear Stearns.

The specific dates of our 4-week summer Wall Street program being held in Switzerland are as following:

Dates: June 10, 2006 - July 8, 2006

Students can apply online at <http://www.SwissFinanceAcademy.Org>. Please note that while admission is competitive and our programs are fast paced, no previous finance or business background is required. Liberal Arts, Science and Engineering students who possess strong academic credentials are highly encouraged to apply. Further information and our online application, is available at <http://www.SwissFinanceAcademy.org>.
