South Asian Flood Crisis

Some of the largest floods ever have hit parts of India, Bangladesh and Nepal. The current floods across South Asia are being considered as the worst floods in living memory (UN). They have affected nearly 20 million people in India, 8 million in Bangladesh, and several hundred thousand in Nepal.

The Organisation of Associated Students from the Indian Subcontinent (OASIS) is trying to play its role in reaching out on behalf of the Caltech community, and we need your help ! Your donations will be forwarded to UNICEF for relief operations in this region.
